What they are telling us?

“So many of our girls would struggle to realise their potential if it was not for the scholarships. There is no other provision in New South Wales that delivers such quality support for promising, young women as that of the Harding Miller Foundation. Their scale of operation and preparedness to follow through with individual cases beyond the customary single year is unique, as students are given the opportunity of extension into their senior years.”

Denise Smith
Teacher, Prairiewood High School
